About Us

A unique museum featuring presidential, multi-cultural and agricultural stories and artifacts. We opened our doors on July 4, 1976 as a presidential and agricultural museum and evolved to be multicultural as well. Our collection consists of a diverse mix of artifacts that includes documents, costumes, farm equipment, presidential artifacts and even a 1733 tenant farm house built on Alexander Spotswood Rapidan land. We opened our Black History Exhibit Room and Temporary Exhibit Room in 2015 and completely renovated the Presidents Room in September of 2017. On December 3, 2018 we opened our newest permanent exhibit, the "Manahoac Confederacy". There is something for everyone to enjoy.

2020 QuadTank Pitch Competition and Quad County Business Summit go Virtual

Press Release

The Orange County Economic Development Office is pleased to announce it will co-host the 2020 QuadTank Pitch Competition and Quad County Business Summit along with the Economic Development Offices of Greene County, Louisa County, and Fluvanna County, the Fluvanna Chamber of Commerce, and the Central Virginia Small Business Development Center on November 17, 2020. The QuadTank Pitch Competition will take place from 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m., and the Quad County Business Summit from 1:00 p.m.-4:00 p.m.

The 5th Annual Quad County Business Summit will be all virtual. The event will feature keynote speaker Sandy Sponagle from Platinum PR. Participants will also hear from Hope Lawrence of Hudson Henry Baking Company on how her Fluvanna business has reached its current level of success. The Summit will also include breakout sessions and opportunities for virtual networking. The event is free for Quad County business owners. Interested participants can register at www.qcbssummit.com

"In light of current pandemic, the Quad County Business Summit Planning Committee decided to take these events virtual to ensure that our rural entrepreneurs and businesses owners would still have access to this valuable network of resources," noted Rose Deal, Project Manager for Orange County Economic Development.

Similar to last year, The Summit will also include the QuadTank, a winner take all pitch competition. The QuadTank is available for new or current business owners from the participating counties. Businesses should prepare a business plan and pitch their plan to the panel of judges. The final presentations and judge questions will be hosted live the morning of November 17th, for all participants to view. The grand prize for the QuadTank is $5,000. Last year's winner was JB Cakes of Orange County.

This year the Quad Counties are inviting Madison County businesses to participate in the Summit as special guests! Madison County entrepreneurs can view the QuadTank and participate in the Summit with fellow Central Virginia business owners.

Registration and sponsorship opportunities are listed on the Summit website:

www.qcbssummit.com.

Please save the date, November 17th, to virtually attend this event. For more information, please contact Rose Deal, Project Manager at (540) 672-1238.

Second Bounce Back Orange Small Business Grant Program Announced

Press release

Orange County is pleased to announce a second round of the Bounce Back Orange County Small Business Grant program, aimed to provide immediate relief to small business owners, private schools, and non-profits throughout the County impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. The Bounce Back Orange County Small Business Grant will offer forgivable grants up to $8,000 to qualified businesses and organizations and is funded using federal CARES Act funds. Similar in round one, Community Investment Collaborative (CIC), a non-profit organization will administer the program developed by Orange County.

Interested business owners and organizations with zero (0) to one hundred (100) employees are encouraged to start the grant process immediately by completing the required online interest form at <https://forms.gle/cRTNq8TaeqxfCDv9>. Staff will utilize the interest forms to communicate directly with businesses and organizations regarding the grant application.

The grant application process will open on October 5, 2020 and will close on October 19, 2020 at 11:59 pm EST. For a full overview of the program, please go to <https://www.thinkorangeva.com/covid19-resources>.

For more information, please contact the Economic Development Department at (540) 672-1238.

Cancellation Notice for Orange Street Festival

Due to the ongoing health concerns and the restrictions regarding public gatherings, the Orange Street Festival will not be held this year as previously scheduled for Saturday, October 17, 2020. The Orange County Chamber of Commerce regrets having to make this decision, as our members, vendors, and others were looking forward to this event. Unfortunately, it is not possible to have this type of event and remain compliant with the limitations on attendance due to the pandemic. We look forward to 2021 and many great events in the future. In the meantime, we encourage everyone to maintain vigilance and continue to practice physical distancing and safety protocols. We're in this together!

"Tradition of Excellence"

A Caravan of Help

By Pat Wilson
Correspondent

For the 200 residents of Matoaka, the arrival of a caravan of volunteers from Restoration Ministries is a welcome sight. As the faith-based group, organized by Tammy and Joe Starkey, unloads seasonally appropriate clothing, small appliances, household items, furniture, non-perishable food and cleaning supplies, families eagerly stack the donations in a partially restored building. But, just as importantly, the missionaries bring hope for the future and the knowledge that caring people in the service of God have compassion without judgement.

Life in the poverty-stricken West Virginia town centers around Bridge Baptist Church and Pastor Tom Carpenter and his wife, Teresa. A former mining community that boasted over 1,000 residents, Matoaka's population decline over the past decade is directly related to job loss. Businesses, including grocery stores, restaurants, and a bank, as well as the local elementary school, have closed. Main Street buildings have fallen into disrepair or collapsed completely. The town was forced to become unincorporated and sell off its equipment to satisfy financial concerns. As a result, the rescue and fire departments shut down. The town has no local law enforcement or even free trash service.

"They had to sell their playground equipment which to me is particularly heartbreaking. It is so sad to see such poverty in our own country," said Tammy. "The town has to rely on services from other Mercer County towns, mainly Princeton which is 30 minutes away."

The US 2010 census stated that people living at or below the poverty level in the nation was 13.2 percent, while for Matoaka, the figure was 34.2 percent.

About 18 months ago, the Starkeys learned about the situation through their pastor at Grace Free Will Baptist Church. Having been involved in mission work for about six years, the couple had participated in trips to rural Mexico to build churches. But, after learning of the situation in Appalachia, the Starkeys and numerous members of the congregation formed the stand-alone Restoration Ministries, with eight to ten volunteers now making three-to-four day visits several times a year.

"When we first visited the area, we were overwhelmed by the needs, and our ministry was born out of the desire to help this poverty-stricken area," said Tammy.

A major project of the ministry is rebuilding the community both spiritually and physically. The group is currently laboring to restore The Store, the term they use for a building donated to the local church. The completed downstairs, known as The Closet, is now equipped with shelves, clothing racks, and storage space for distribution of goods, as needed. An on-going effort is to finish the second floor, which the volunteers have termed the Upper Room. The space will be used by the local church for missionary and community activities as well as a gathering spot for youth. Eventually, the volunteers will be able to stay there overnight and reduce their personal expenses for lodging.

"We welcome everyone to join us in the Lord's work," said Tammy. "I want to get the word out that we always need helping hands, financial support and material donations from the community. We are grateful for the assistance from Louisa County residents along with caring people in the surrounding area."

Additional goals include helping residents with repairs to their homes. Tammy cited leaking roofs, ramps for the disabled and general maintenance.

"Fortunately, we have recently raised enough funds to install air-conditioners in building," said Tammy. "Building supplies are expensive, but a generous community and several other churches have always blessed us to meet the costs."

Tammy praises the on-going work of Pastor Carpenter, a local minister, who 14 years ago offered to serve the people of Matoaka on an interim basis when the previous pastor abruptly left. He has been there for them ever since.

"He knows each family and I can call him to find out what is specifically needed. When we have extra funds, we can send the church a check and we know it will be used wisely," she said. "He travels from his home in Princeton three or four times a week in addition to the weekend service. Church attendance has increased from less than 10 to over 50."

Tammy Starkey sorts donated items which are stored in her garage.

A mission trip is planned for early October, and Tammy stressed the need for coats, boots, hats, blankets and even toys that do not require batteries. Helping hands are always appreciated. The group welcomes donations, both monetary and useful necessities such as practical clothing and household items in working condition. Donations can be taken to the Starkeys' home in central Louisa County. Tammy appreciates a call prior at 540-748-0232. If necessary, volunteers will pick up large pieces, such as furniture.

"We accept practically anything, even cars," said Tammy. "All we ask is that people give from their hearts and bring things that are truly in useable condition."

Items that are suitable to take to Matoaka are loaded in a 16-foot utility trailer, while other donations will be stored in a garage and designated for periodic yard sales or placed on Marketplace. One hundred percent of the money raised goes to purchasing supplies or assisting residents with concerns like food and utility bills. Most often funds are forwarded to Pastor Carpenter as he is most informed on how they can be best spent.

"As we assist with the basic necessities of life, we also want to give them hope through the love of Jesus Christ," said Tammy. "As we care for them, we want them to realize He cares for them as well."

Restoration Ministries has applied for non-profit status, but currently handles monetary donations through Grace Free Will Baptist Church, so that contributions can be tax deductible. Anyone wishing to support the missionaries can make a check payable to the church with a notation "for RM" and mail it to the Starkeys at 3554 West Old Mountain Road, Louisa, VA 23093. A letter from the church treasurer will acknowledge the donation.

Tammy anticipates a yard sale in early October, prior to their next mission trip. Items suitable to take to West Virginia or for the sale to raise funds are most appreciated. She again emphasizes to please donate only appropriate and useful items. Non-perishable food is always welcome.

More information about the ministries' work is available on its Facebook page, at Louisa Happenings or by contacting Tammy by phone 540-748-0232 or at restorationministries2035@gmail.com.
