Editor's Note

The cost of grinder pumps at Lake Monticello is shared by all 8,000 Aqua Virginia customers. The number of customers sharing the cost was incorrectly stated in the Oct. 14 story on the company seeking a rate increase. Aqua spokesperson Gretchen Toner said that the company has not asked the State Corporation Commission to shift the cost of grinder pumps to owners, only that it believes the commission "should consider an alternate rate design mechanism for grinder pumps."

Silk City Printing to relocate to county creating 93 new jobs

PRESS RELEASE

Silk City Printing

93 NEW JOBS

$5.7 MILLION CAPITAL INVESTMENT

Gov. Ralph Northam has announced that Silk City Printing, LLC will relocate its corporate headquarters from Paterson, New Jersey to Fluvanna County. The company will invest $5.7 million to establish a new silkscreened apparel production operation in the former Thomasville facility that has been vacant since 2007. Virginia successfully competed with New Jersey for the project, which will create 93 new jobs.

"We are honored that Silk City Printing has chosen Fluvanna County and Virginia as its new home," said Northam. "This important project will create 93 valuable jobs for a rural community while also transforming a long-vacant facility into a state-of-the-art production operation. Stimulating growth across diverse business sectors will help advance our economic recovery, and we thank Silk City Printing for this investment in the Commonwealth and our people."

Silk City Printing, LLC was established in 2017 and produces branded, silkscreened apparel for retail outlets including Target and Walmart. The company has an additional facility located in New Jersey.

"What a great addition to the Fluvanna County business community," said chairman of the Fluvanna County Board of Supervisors John "Mike" Sheridan. "Bringing nearly 100 jobs to Fluvanna will provide a great opportunity for our residents to live and work here.

Vote For a Better Future!

Vote Biden-Harris-Warner-Webb!

Biden will be ready to take on COVID-19 from day one by listening to scientists and following the facts.

Biden will authorize the Defense Production Action to ensure PPE and other supplies are provided to our hospitals and health care providers.

Biden will fully and rapidly implement the CARES Act.

Biden backs premium pay for essential workers.

Biden will work for emergency relief that lifts small businesses and saves hardworking people from foreclosures and evictions. It's wrong that billionaires got $400 billion richer during the pandemic while millions lost $600 a week in extra unemployment.

Biden will implement paid sick days and create a paid family and medical leave system that protects workers.

Biden will protect the Affordable Care Act and the 100 million Americans with preexisting conditions.

Biden will improve access to quality health care in rural communities, including mental healthcare and community-based services.

Biden will take aggressive action to curtail costs of prescription drugs, capping out-of-pocket drug costs for seniors.

Biden will support our educators by giving them the pay and dignity they deserve.

Biden supports universal Pre-K and tuition-free college for families earning less than $125,000.

The Biden administration will expand broadband access for rural Americans.

Biden will enact more middle class tax cuts, including an expansion of the child tax credit, as well as credits for home buying, health care, and childcare, while NOT raising taxes on those earning $400,000 or less.

Biden's plan will create at least 5 million new good paying jobs and focus on working families.

Biden will invest in rural communities and support farmers expanding the USDA.

Biden will bring cutting-edge manufacturing jobs back to America.

Biden will expand support for American manufacturing, ending policies that incentivize sending jobs overseas.

The Biden administration will give state and local governments more flexibility to build safer, cleaner, and more accessible transportation.

Biden respects and prioritizes our Veterans and plans to increase access to telehealth through the VA, particularly in rural areas with limited access to care.

Biden will work to tackle climate change, recommit to the Paris Climate Agreement, and take action against polluters who put profits over people.

Biden supports sensible gun legislation.

Biden will eliminate mandatory minimum sentencing, end the death penalty, decriminalize cannabis use, and divert individuals to drug courts and treatment.

Biden will restore the Voting Rights Act.

Biden will protect honest elections, so we — not a foreign adversary — choose our president.

A vote for Biden/Harris is a vote for the diverse, hopeful America we once were and can be again.

“We’ve got to heal this nation, because we have the greatest opportunity of any country in the world to own the 21st century. And we can’t do it divided.”

—Joe Biden

Why bother to vote

In the United States, we Americans have evolved at an astonishing rate of growth. In only 244 years, we have developed our knowledge and science to some of the highest in the world. Since World War II, we have assumed that we are the greatest society on the Earth. We reached that status, because we have been diligent in understanding what is valuable about our society and passing that knowledge on to our children. However, in the last 50 or so years, we have begun the erosion of the most important value in our system; our civic responsibility to preserve and protect our society and the institutions that support our survival.

Throughout the past 244 years, American youth have gone to war and, too often, given their lives for principles which are not all written in law, but in our beliefs that trace back to the Founding Fathers and our ancestors. They were homogenous only in the sense that they were all Americans in heart and spirit, but not necessarily in law. We are strong as a nation because of our diversity and the constant infusion of new ideas and influence of newcomers who immigrate here for a better life.

Our national election of 2020, and many local and state elections, can very much determine what will happen to this great society, that is still in relative infancy. Whether we continue, may well depend on our willingness to apply wisdom over passion, and discretion over ignorance in our voting behavior. Rather, we must realize that what we do, in the present, has bearing on the way history will remember the American experiment in democracy. We can very easily squander our opportunity. We owe it to ourselves to be one of the longest enduring societies of world history, a symbol of unity, hope and fairness to people in the world's most remote corners. Vote like your future and that of your descendants, depend on it!

-Andrew M. Leon, Palmyra

Vote yes on constitutional redistricting amendment

In this year's election Virginians have a historic opportunity to end gerrymandering, a practice that has been in place since Gov. Patrick Henry drew up a district to try to keep James Madison, father of the Constitution that Henry opposed, out of the House of Representatives. The party in power of the General Assembly can set the boundaries of congressional districts after each decennial census. Our 5th congressional district is the poster child of gerrymandering. It stretches vertically from the Virginia-North Carolina Border for 250 miles up to Fauquier County in Northern Virginia. The 5th congressional district is Virginia's largest, larger in area than six US states. The boundaries make no sense whatsoever except to the politicians who constructed it to lock in their power.

The proposed amendment on this year's ballot spells out a process for developing new state and congressional maps, beginning with the 2021 redistricting. According to the proposed amendment, "Each electoral district will be composed of contiguous and compact territory to give, as nearly as practicable, representation in proportion to the population of the district." A 16-member panel of eight legislators and eight citizens, evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans, will be tasked with developing the maps. Is this a perfect solution? Probably not, but the fact that both Republicans and Democrats are criticizing it with equal vigor gives us reason to believe that this is the best solution our political process could come up with. I urge you to vote yes for the proposed constitutional amendment.

-Dick Bucci, Palmyra

What's all this talk about 2020 being the most important election in our lifetime? Some headlines suggest the soul of America is at stake. Does a nation have a soul or an immaterial and immortal essence? I prefer the term conscience, our inner voice that acts as a guide to the rightness or wrongness of our behavior. With President Trump's many deceitful practices America has most likely lost its conscience..

According to The Washington Post Fact Checker, at his current pace Trump will exceed 25,000 false or misleading claims before Election Day. In fact, he probably crossed that threshold this week. But it's the revelations about Trump's policies that shock us. According to lawyers appointed by a federal judge, they have yet to track down the parents of 545 children separated by the Trump administration. About two-thirds of those parents were deported to Central America without their children.

On Tuesday, Oct. 20h, the president's malicious accounts of angry persecution targeted Democratic presidential nominee Joe Biden, Lesley Stahl of "60 Minutes," the Commission on Presidential Debates, the Supreme Court and Dr. Anthony Fauci. He also put more pressure on Attorney General William Barr to launch criminal probes into Biden. Trump ignores the ever increasing danger facing America: a pandemic that just hit a one-day high of 83,000 infections.

Amid all the chaos this is clear: the world has moved closer to a point of no return. U. S., Canadian and Danish scientists just reported in the journal Nature that by the end of this century Greenland's ice loss will probably be higher than in any century during the last 12,000 years (believe it or not, Trump offered to buy Greenland). America, if not the world, stands on an environmental precipice and our slogan has become a nightmare: Burn. Melt. Drown. Repeat.

We can do better but it will require a president who can be honest with us today and inspire us to act with a conscience in the future. Please vote for Joe Biden, Mark Warner and Cameron Webb. With a team working in Washington to protect our future we just might find our way back and save our soul.

"YOU CAN LEARN MORE AND REGISTER FOR THE QCBS BY VISITING WWW.QCBSUMMIT.COM"

The Quad County Business Summit is right around the corner! We had originally planned to host the Summit in Fluvanna County. We will not be physically together, but on November 17, business owners from Greene, Orange, Louisa and Fluvanna will gather virtually! This year we even invited our friends from Madison to join in as our special guests!

The day will begin with the QuadTank, a winner take-all pitch competition. Businesses will be competing for $5,000 cash prize. The pitch competition is a chance for businesses to seek capital without all of the stipulations of most grants this year. This is purely to help businesses launch a great idea, pivot operations or expand a current program. Pitches are due by November 6.

We, of course, wish it were in person, but we are looking forward to the event because of the fabulous content that is scheduled. The Summit will have Sandy Sponaule, from Platinum PR, as the keynote speaker. We also will hear a business success story from Hudson Henry's Hope Lawrence from Fluvanna!

The breakout session options include business finance, how to prepare for uncertainty, retail and restaurant preparation for 4th quarter 2020, exit strategies, online customer communication and small business cyber security. The agenda even includes an opportunity to network with other businesses from the counties.

You can learn more and register for the QCBS by visiting <https://www.qcbsummit.com/>. We have all the information about the Summit on the site, including speakers, agenda and sponsors. Register online to get login information. You must register to attend. We could not do the QCBS without our sponsors Dominion Energy, Rappahannock Electric, Platinum PR, and Orange Downtown Alliance.

I hope you spend the day with us at the Quad County Business Summit. From Fluvanna, Bryan

I'd like to thank Governor Northam for his assistance to bring Silk City to the county."

"This project is an exciting win for Fluvanna County, the region, and the Commonwealth," said Secretary of Commerce and Trade Brian Ball. "The company will revitalize a plant that has been empty for 13 years while also providing critical opportunities for alternate career paths to Fluvanna County's high school population. We look forward to building a strong partnership with Silk City Printing as the company ramps up in Virginia."

"We're excited to be moving our headquarters to Virginia," said President of Silk City Printing Mark Summers. "Our intention as a company is to build a world-class facility in Fork Union with the most modern and technologically advanced machinery available within the industry. Silk City Printing fully plans to recruit locally with training programs supported by Fluvanna County. Virginia and the county have made us feel extremely welcome and made this relocation an easy decision."

The Virginia Economic Development Partnership worked with Fluvanna County and the Central Virginia Partnership for Economic Development to secure the project for Virginia. Governor Northam approved a $70,000 grant from the Commonwealth's Opportunity Fund to assist Fluvanna County with the project. This is the first such grant awarded to Fluvanna County. Funding and services to support Silk City Printing employee training activities will be provided through the Virginia Jobs Investment Program.

"Virginia is admirably skilled at communicating our assets to established businesses from across the country looking to relocate or expand," said Delegate R. Lee Ware, Jr. "We have great communities like Fluvanna with good schools and transportation, prudent tax rates, and vast natural resources and beautiful places. I commend the Virginia Economic Development Partnership and Fluvanna County officials for attracting Silk City Printing to our community and creating nearly 100 new jobs."

"I want to be one of the first to welcome Silk City Printing, LLC to our community," said Senator Mark J. Peake. "The fact that this new job creation is coming during trying economic times and incorporates the far-sighted career ready approach by Fluvanna County Public Schools makes the news that much better. I congratulate the leadership of Fluvanna County, especially the local economic development office, on their insight and initiative in successfully working with the Virginia Economic Development Partnership and the Central Virginia Partnership for Economic Development to bring new business to Fluvanna."

"The Fork Union District of Fluvanna County welcomes Silk City Printing," said Mozell Booker, Fork Union District supervisor. "We are delighted to have them join the other businesses in our County. They will find us to be friendly and caring people who will help the company be successful. Our popular saying is that 'Fluvanna is a great place to live, learn, work, and play.' The staff will enjoy the rural and natural beauty of the Fork Union area. We will delight in seeing Silk City Printing grow and enrich our community. Thank you for choosing to come to the Fork Union area in Fluvanna County!"

"We are excited to have Silk City Printing relocating its operations to Fluvanna County and look forward to having them join our expanding business community," said Eric Dahl, Fluvanna County Administrator. "The 93 new jobs being created provides our residents with additional and needed local job opportunities, which therefore helps to grow our local economy. We are confident Silk City Printing finds a talented workforce and a welcoming environment to grow in Fluvanna."

"Silk City Printing will bring much needed employment to the Fork Union area," said Bryan Rothamel, Fluvanna Economic Development Coordinator. "The investment Silk City Printing will make into the community will reverberate throughout the County. The Economic Development Office is looking forward to expansion of employment programs that will allow people from Fluvanna to work for businesses from Fluvanna. Silk City Printing, welcome to Fluvanna!"

Letters to the Editor

We are Freedom Fighters

In 1956, Nikita Khrushchev said, "We will take America without firing a shot. We do not have to invade the U.S. We will destroy you from within..." Something else happened in 1956; a group of Freedom Fighters in Hungary rose up against their Soviet occupiers. They took up arms against the authoritarian terror perpetrated against the Hungarian people by the Soviet Union. I know a lot about this because my father was one of those Freedom Fighters. He refused to join the Soviet Communist Party and instead chose to stand up to a murderous totalitarian state. The revolt was crushed and my father, after managing to outsmart the secret police, crawled across minefields to freedom.

My father made it to the USA and lived the American dream. He is not alive today to see the USA fall under the thrall of Putin, to watch GRU propaganda laundered in the USA for political gain, to see Americans cavalierly call their opponents "communists" when they themselves are in bed with an oppressive, totalitarian state that trades in lies, corruption and political terrorism.

The Kremlin has placed bounties on the heads of U.S. soldiers, used directed energy weaponry on our troops, and launched asymmetric information warfare against the USA. The Kremlin has filled the social media eco-system with propaganda and disinformation designed to create distrust in our democratic institutions; sow doubt, confusion, and chaos; and divide us from within. Sadly, 30-40 percent of Americans now believe partisan politicians (and Putin) over our nation's patriots.

We need a Commander in Chief who protects our nation; is not himself a national security risk due to his massive debt; one who does not praise murderous dictators such as Putin, Al-Sisi, MbS, Orban, Erdogan, Jong-un, and Jinping; and one who honors the patriots who put themselves in harm's way to defend our republic.

A broad coalition of Republicans, Democrats, and Independents are on team USA. A smaller coalition is on team Putin. They still call us "commies," but I know who we are. Like my father, we are the Freedom Fighters.

- Sallie Ross, Palmyra

No confidence in Trump

I will admit to having very strong feelings about our current leadership in the White House. While born an American citizen, I did live in this country until the age of 11. At that time Nixon had resigned and Ford was still our president. I remember both and can even remember Johnson. Until Trump, I had felt that while I might disagree with some of the policies of the then president in office, I never really doubted that they took their job seriously and were, for the most part, decent men who made decisions based on their convictions, however biased they might be. I believe they usually surrounded themselves with a team of experts and relied on their advice. I believe they tried to represent all Americans. This is not to say that lines were not crossed, cronyism did not exist or that shady deals were not made.

I do not feel that way about our current president. While his supporters argue he has bravado, a tell it like it is attitude, and is a pot stirrer or deal maker, the way I see it, he has proven himself uniquely unqualified, predatory, self-dealing and lacking any true sense of moral conviction. To date, as president, he has lied or misled the American public over 22,247 times. This type of behavior would have sunk most presidencies or politicians repeatedly.

Keep in mind these are not just little white lies. His arrogance and narcissism prevent him from even recognizing or changing course when he makes an error, thus keeping him from acting in the better interest of our country.

The most egregious and unforgivable mistake he has made is to barrel our nation down one of the most disastrous responses in the world to the COVID-19 pandemic. He has ignored the true experts, surrounded himself with yes men who support his desire to wish the virus away while failing to implement any sort of a national strategy to control the spread of infection.

A total of 230,000 dead Americans, nearly 9 million infected, new record daily case counts nearing 80,000 per day, with flu season just beginning, is not a record that deserves our confidence or his reelection.

Pandemic means leadership program to 'Zoom in' on Fluvanna

PRESS RELEASE

The Fluvanna Leadership Development Program will "zoom in" on the county beginning Jan. 7 with at least the first classes being virtual via Zoom, due to the pandemic – and the hope that the coronavirus situation will allow some later classes to be more in-person. The group is beginning to sign up a limited number of students for this year's classes.

"This will be a year like no other, but we like to think it will be better in many ways, despite COVID," said FLDP co-Chair Rudy Garcia. "For example, students will be able to avoid long drives at night to some of the class locations. And the fact that the Zoom classes will be recorded will give classmates flexibility in when they attend classes." Due to Zoom limitations, classes also will be shorter and more frequent.

The FLDP has traditionally held its 16 biweekly classes in a variety of locations throughout the county as part of the process of familiarizing classmates with more areas of the county. The classes also have given classmates the chance to meet in person, talk with and ask questions of county leaders, such as county supervisors, the county administrator, the county schools superintendent, leaders of Lake Monticello, leading businesspeople, non-profits and others important to county life.

"Obviously, the in-person part of this is something we have to give up – at least at first – due to the pandemic," said co-Chair Mike Feazel. "It's great to be able to meet face-to-face with officials, shake their hands and talk with them, as FLDP always provided. We wrestled with that, but safety and health just have to come first. We still kind of hope the health situation will improve enough for some in-person options. And our classes will be as totally interactive as ever, with classmates able to grill county leaders about anything, and get answers."

"Regardless, we believe this is a unique opportunity for Fluvanna residents to learn about their county and the people who run it," said FLDP Treasurer Jackie Bland. "And some of the advantages of this new way of conducting classes we hope will offset some of the disadvantages. In fact, some of the new concepts are so good that we may continue using them even after the pandemic is over."

FLDP graduates have gone on to leadership positions throughout Fluvanna County – including a majority of members of the county board of supervisors and of the county school board, seats on virtually every county government commission and committee, three of the seven seats on the Lake Monticello Owners Association board, and as participants in virtually every significant service organization and non-profit throughout the county. At last count, members of the 17 classes that graduated from FLDP have held more than 300 positions in Fluvanna.

Others take the class just to feel more at home in the county, and to know who to go to if they need help solving a problem.

Due to the coronavirus, FLDP decided to limit this year's class to 25 persons, so it's recommended that those who are interested sign up early. Also, because some FLDP activities will be limited, the fee for this year's class will be only $25, instead of $50.

Those interested in this year's FLDP class can get additional information and sign up at www.fluvannaleadership.org. Registration will close when the class limit is reached, or Nov. 30. Information about the class is also available at 434-589-1732.

The Fluvanna SPCA will be closed to the public until further notice. We are trying to do our part to help cut down on the spread of COVID-19, and with our animals' and employees' best interests in mind we are trying to reduce foot traffic to help keep our employees healthy. The animals at the shelter will continue to receive wonderful care just as they normally do, so no need to worry. If you are interested in adopting or if you would like to drop off donations during this time that we are closed to the public, you can make an appointment to do so by contacting our shelter manager: manager@fspca.org. We appreciate your understanding and support during this difficult time for everyone, and we will be sure to keep you updated as soon as we will be open again to the public.

THIS WEEK'S PET IS: KOKO 10 MONTHS

Koko was owner surrendered to the shelter because she was pregnant and they could no longer care for her. Koko was having bad complication with her pregnancy and the saddest part was she lost all her babies due to her being to young and way under weight. This little girl is the sweetest baby and so loving. She will scoot right up to you and lay her head right in your lap. (Begging for attention and love.) Before she came to the shelter she was never walked on a leash and she was raised strictly an outdoor dog. Being in a home has been very difficult for her because she is not use to this. Koko is not housebroken so she will need some work with this. Koko does not care for small dogs and she is very dog selective. If you have another dog we would need to do a meet and greet to see how well they do before going any further in the process.

Fluvanna women form network

BY PAGE H. GIFFORD

Being new to Virginia and the area, businesswoman Jan Tatangelo saw something missing. Originally a business owner in California, she left for the peace and tranquility of rural Virginia but being as outgoing and pro-active as she is, the something that was missing was still nagging her. She noticed there was no supportive network for women in business and decided to set out and make it happen with the help of other local women.

"I saw the need to bring women business owners together to network and support each other's success and personal growth." She lit up with the idea of starting a WIB (Women in Businesses) group in Fluvanna. "I've had great experiences being involved in WIB groups for fundraising and networking over my career and thought it would be an exciting new project."

Women account for 45 percent of small business owners, most of them in hair and nail salons, beauty products, or domestic cleaning services. More women are successful entrepreneurs in states like North Carolina or Georgia than in California. The gender gap is one reason for the disparity, and they are less likely to run businesses such as restaurants or building maintenance. It is also difficult for women to get the support they need compared to their male counterparts.

Their goals are to promote shopping local for services that keep people working and increase the tax base and economy.

"The entrepreneurial desire continues to grow with women starting more businesses than ever, especially home-based businesses so they can have an opportunity to stay home with the family while giving support," she said. "The network is designed to mentor and build confidence in these new business owners. It also naturally builds leadership skills in our members. Learning from each other is vital to our community. Women are changing the landscape of business and at the forefront of business leadership."

Tatangelo believes the future of the network is strong because of the needs and desire to grow.

"We're a Facebook centered group with 108 members, with no dues. We love co-op marketing opportunities and meet for lunch once a month and are introducing a monthly Zoom call to promote our members." Tatangelo's energy is limitless and her excitement shows when speaking about the future of women in business. But there is still a lot of road to travel and obstacles to deal with but women in Fluvanna are making inroads owning businesses in real estate, tax preparation and accounting, and insurance. Many women own and operate dog grooming businesses and Karen Dernbach has owned Happy Tails for many years which has been a very successful business.

Peggy Shanklin, who owned one of those domestic cleaning businesses is currently in real estate and works closely with Tatangelo on WIB.

"It is about supporting local women-owned business and bringing women together to support each other with ideas, referrals, and education," said Shanklin. "And lifting each other, forming long-lasting relationships and helping each other succeed in a male-dominated world of business. It is about growing, bringing in new members and to diversify our membership to bring the best Fluvanna has to offer together."

One of WIB's goals is to have a women's expo in the spring and a fundraiser for local women going into nursing who need items as stethoscopes, medical bags, and other necessary items.

"We have strength in numbers to accomplish big goals," said Tatangelo. They're also planning on wine, women, and business events for networking, perhaps adding art to those events as well to support the local art community.

"We're open to any local women in business or to those who love women in business. We do not exclude men since we like them too," said Tatangelo, smiling.

For more information about WIB, contact Jan Tatangelo at virginialsgal@gmail.com.

Fluvanna water tower ranked 10th nationally

The Zion Crossroads Water and Sewer System water tower design was selected as one of the best painted water tanks in America. Tnemec, a company who specializes in coatings and linings, picked the Fluvanna water tower logo as the 10th best logo painted in 2020.

The Zion Crossroads Water Tower logo is a variation of the Fluvanna County logo. The logo highlights the county's natural beauty depicting a canoer in a river and a bicyclist enjoying the countryside among rolling hills, trees, and a setting sun.

"The Zion Crossroads Water and Sewer System water tower welcomes everyone to Fluvanna so we made it a priority to give a great first impression. The water tower is a wonderful addition to the growth area that will welcome visitors, residents and future business owners for years to come," said Bryan Rothamel, Fluvanna's economic development coordinator.

The award-winning logo is 18 feet tall and 34 feet wide. The Fluvanna tower also finished in the top 10 by a popular vote earlier in October. Tnemec officials reviewed over 300 nominations for this year's Tank of the Year competition. Officials selected the top 11 water tanks plus the popular vote winner to be included in the top 12 water tanks of the year. Fluvanna's tower will be included in the "2020 Tank of the Year" website feature for the next year and in the Tnemec 2021 wall calendar.

The Zion Crossroads Water and Sewer System will service nearly four miles of the Rt. 250 and Rt. 15 corridor. Once construction is completed, the system will utilize up to 75,000 gallons of water a day from Mechunk Creek. The Department of Corrections' facility on Rt. 250 will provide the water and treat up to 125,000 gallons of sewage, available immediately after construction completion.

The water tower was constructed by CB&I/McDermott. The engineer for the system is Dewberry. The water tank was completed in April 2020.

THIS WEEK'S PET IS BELLA! 3 YRS

Bella is a purebred Black Bombay according to her previous family. Bella had to be surrendered due to no fault of her own and she was raised with 2 cats and 3 dogs and she loved them all. However, here at the shelter she behaves as if she does not like other animals. She will need some time to adjust. If you are interested in meeting Bella please call the shelter to schedule an appointment time.

She is current on all her age appropriate vaccines, micro-chipped and spayed.

Supervisors vote to postpone penalties and interest on property tax

BY HEATHER MICHON
CORRESPONDENT

The Fluvanna County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a temporary ordinance change at their regular meeting on Wednesday (Oct. 21) that will postpone penalties and interest on second-half property tax payments.

Under the change, second-half bills are still due on Dec. 5 but penalties on late payments won't be applied until Dec. 30. With many residents struggling financially due to the pandemic, the temporary change gives them a little breathing room to make payments without added late fees.

Broadband

Efforts to expand high-speed internet to underserved parts of the county received an unexpected boost as Lovingston-based Nelson Cable said it could bring fiber to parts of Fluvanna.

Nelson Cable has access to power lines operated by Appalachian Electric Power (AEP), which serves a small number of Fluvanna customers near Scottsville. Using these lines, Nelson Cable said it could bring service to 45 homes along Poplar Spring Road.

Fluvanna will pay $60,000 out of Federal CARES Act funding for Nelson Cable to run the lines and the house drops. Customers would then pay between $9.99 and $78.99 per month for service, depending on speed. Parents with school-aged children could qualify for that $9.99 per month rate.

Supervisors passed the motion on a vote of 5-0.

EMS billing

The Board approved a contract with ImageTrend to manage billing for the county's EMS services.

Purchasing Officer Cyndi Toler said the new contract would result in significant savings. The current provider charges 4.75 percent on net billings, while ImageTrend will take 4.50 percent. Additionally, ImageTrend would waive a $20,500 annual fee the county currently pays for call reporting software used by fire & rescue.

School supplemental

Supervisors also voted 5-0 to accept two supplemental appropriations for Fluvanna County Public Schools (FCPS). The schools will receive $95,296 in federal grant funding and $596,190 in coronavirus relief funds to help with COVID related expenses.

Brenda Gilliam, executive director for instruction and finance for FCPS said these funds could be used for replacement Chromebooks and other technology related to online learning, while $300,000 will go to three 2018 model school buses.

Mutual aid

County Administrator Eric Dahl requested the authorization of an advertisement for a public hearing on a mutual aid agreement between Fluvanna County, the Fork Union Sanitary District, and the Louisa County Water Authority. Under the agreement, if either county needed support to keep water and wastewater systems operating during some emergency or worst-case scenario, they could request temporary staffing, subject to later reimbursement.

The public hearing will be held Nov 18.
