County wins $1.2 million grant for Palmyra streetscape project

BY HEATHER MICHON
CORRESPONDENT

Change is coming to Palmyra Village, thanks to a new grant from the Virginia Department of Transportation (VDOT).

The $1.2 million award for the county's Palmyra Village Streetscape proposal comes from the federally-funded Transportation Alternatives Program, or TAP, which focuses on pedestrian- and bicycle-friendly projects.

According to the VDOT website, TAP's goal is to "create safe, accessible, attractive, and environmentally sensitive communities where people want to live, work, and recreate," particularly those that have a historic preservation element.

The proposal for the Palmyra Village Streetscape envisions a major redesign of the streets around the historic courthouse, Civil War Park, and the Old Stone Jail.

A concept plan introduced to the Board of Supervisors in 2021 shows five-foot wide sidewalks and ramps along the edge of the park along Court Square and in front of the historic courthouse. Part of the wall along the edge of Civil War Park would be removed to improve access. Parallel parking would be established across from the Old Stone Jail and Maggie's House.

The biggest change would be the removal of the paved space currently separating the park from the old courthouse. Much of this would be removed to create angled parking spaces along Main Street, with a wide strip turned into a greenspace connecting the park to the courthouse.

The total project cost is estimated at $1,589,156. The TAP award will cover $1,271,325, with the county picking up the difference.

County Administrator Eric Dahl announced the grant at the top of the July 6 meeting of the Board of Supervisors, having learned of the award earlier in the day.

"It's not going to do all of the sidewalks," he said. "It's sort of the first phase." Supervisors will also have to sign off on VDOT agreements before the project can get underway.

Creating a safer and more walkable Palmyra has been on the supervisors' list of strategic initiatives for years, with discussions going back to at least 2016. It was a major focus of a project by the Fluvanna Leadership Development Program (FLDP) and later, the Palmyra Area Revitalization Committee (PARC).

Palmyra Village is poised to change dramatically over the next decade.

With the construction of a new county office complex on Rt. 53 now in the planning stages, many of the government offices now located in the village will eventually be shut down, opening up the potential for businesses to move in. Revitalizing the village's historic center might help add to the appeal for new tenants.

VDOT could begin the streetscape project as early as next year and take up to three years to fully complete. A more specific timeline should emerge in the coming months.

Sharks lose but fight hard

CONTRIBUTED BY KRYSTLE MYER

The air buzzed with excitement at the sixth and final swim meet of the season between the Lake Monticello Sharks and the Key West Swim Club. The smell of burgers on the grill mingled with the scents of chlorine and sunscreen - a nostalgic combination for many of us. The sun was low in the sky on this hot and humid 90-degree day as we cheered the Sharks on from the pool deck! These kids did not disappoint. They persevered, pushed through the heat and worked hard to improve their times.

An especially exciting moment occurred during the 11-12 year old relay (heat number 75). Bystanders screamed for the kids. "Go!!" and "Faster!!" echoed throughout Key West Swim Club. The last two kids were neck in neck with Key West winning the race by a split second.

While the Sharks did not win, they certainly put up a good fight with Key West Swim Club which won 531 to 494. It was a close one! A special congratulations to our swimmers who earned a number one spot in their heat, including:

- Boys 8 & Under 100 Yard Freestyle Relay: Liam Poole, Landon Houchens, Elijah Jackson, Norbu Barnett;

THIS WEEK'S PET: DUTCHESS

Dutchess was surrendered to the shelter due to them getting two more puppies and not being able to care for her anymore.

This has broken her heart and she deserves a better life with someone that will show her unconditional love and happiness and show her she is a part of the family. Dutchess deserves a family that will not trade her for a cute little puppy and show her that they would do anything for her. Love her and give her plenty of hugs and kisses. Dutchess has the prettiest face and all you want to do is just kiss that adorable face.

She is current on all her age appropriate vaccines and will be neutered soon.

FAST swim team competes at Elks pool on Pantops

BY DUNCAN NIXON
CORRESPONDENT

The FAST (Fluvanna Area Swim Team) swam in a three-way competition at the Elks pool on July 19. The final score was Culpeper Barracudas 507, FAST 355, and Elks swim team 166. There were 80 events at this meet so the change over from one event to the next had to be well organized. This meet was considered a home meet for the FAST team which does not have its own home pool and therefore moves from pool to pool in the Jefferson Swim League, with half of its meets designated as home matches. Head Coach Michael DiFazio advises that the team practices mornings and afternoons at the FUMA pool and that they "have 70 in the water this summer with about 55 competing on our JSL roster."

Despite being overwhelmed by the Barracudas, a number of FAST swimmers turned in impressive individual performances, with several swimmers winning more than one race. The first win for FAST came in the fifth race. In the boys, age 10-12, 100-meter IM, Levi Rensch was first to touch by a margin of almost nine seconds. In the girls, age 15-18, 100-meter IM, Abby Ford was first for FAST, winning by almost five seconds. The next winner for FAST was Jacob Birckhead who was first in the boys 9-10, 50-meter freestyle sprint. In the girls 11-12, 50-meter freestyle, Abby Caruso won a very tight race finishing in 33.34 for a win by 0.32.

In the girls 15-18, 50-meter freestyle, FAST swimmer Laura Hernandez was the winner by four seconds. The breaststroke discipline was not FAST's strongest, but the team did manage to win three races. Rensch topped the competition in the 50-meter breaststroke for his second win of the night. In the boys 15-18, 50 meter, Mitch Messier was the winner for FAST. In the girls 50-meter breaststroke Abby Ford gained her second win of the night.

In the backstroke events, the FAST squad captured four races, all by the girls. In the 9-10 50 meter it was Madelyn Ford in first place, winning a close race by a margin of 0.23. In the girls 11-12, 50-meter backstroke Abby Caruso took first. In the girls 13-14, Maya Hernandez was the winner. In the 15-18 age group Abby Ford was again the best in the meet.

The butterfly was the FAST team's best discipline. The boys did better here. In the age 9-10 event, Christian Gray won for FAST. His time was best by four seconds. Levi Rensch posted his third win of the night in the 11-12 butterfly race. In the 13-14 event, Padraic Bodenstien won by over five seconds. The girls also posted a couple of wins in the butterfly. Maya Hernandez won in the 13-14 age group and in the 15-18 race, Lexi Collier finished 0.06 ahead of the second-place finisher, who was her teammate Laura Hernandez.

In the relay races, FAST garnered two first place finishes, both on the girls side. The team of Leanna Collier, Josie Caruso, Maya Hernandez and Abby Caruso won the 13-14 freestyle relay by 18 seconds. The team of Laura Hernandez, Lexi Collier, Joey Hagan and Abby Ford won the 15-18 freestyle relay.

At these swim meets there are races for the six and under crowd, but the results are not scored. FAST had some good results in these races, which may auger well for the future. Lévi Sclater, Henry Ward and Sophia Henderickson, all posted wins in their events. This was the final scheduled meet of the season. The JSL championship swim meet will be held on July 29 and 30.

Terrific Tennis Programs Hosted at The Lake!

Betsy Gunnels and other volunteers would like to start a tennis youth league for children 10-12. Email her at betsy@gunnelsgroup.com if you are interested. Lake Monticello is a great place to play the sport. We were fortunate to host both Piedmont Area Tennis Association (PATA) and QuickStart Tennis of Central Virginia (QCV) programs this spring and summer. PATA is a non-profit that focuses on making tennis accessible to everyone, promoting it as a lifetime sport that offers physical and mental exercise to enhance life in general. PATA held a social event on the Ashlawn Racket Courts on June 5 and plans to return with more programming this fall. QCV calls itself "a greenhouse," growing tennis players by using a new, fun-filled teaching format. QCV provided programming to 24 children the week of July 11. A $20 contribution provided the young participants with 4 lessons and a racket! We are grateful to the volunteers who made the programming possible!

Summer youth tennis thrives at Lake

PRESS RELEASE

QuickStart Tennis of Central Virginia, Inc. (QCV) is pleased to report another session of summer tennis camp at Lake Monticello recently wrapped up. A total of 25 kids participated in the weeklong camp, with five kids waitlisted. The camp was started at Lake Monticello 13 years ago by resident Lynn Forsyth and continues today thanks to Betsy Gunnels, her husband Fred and a group of dedicated volunteers who want to pass on their love of tennis. This year's volunteer instructors included: Alden Bigelow, John Dernbach, Jeannette Thillet, and Betsy and Fred Gunnels. They were assisted on-court by Lindy Prittie, Karen Christopherson, Karen O'Neil, Allyson Hopkins, Lisa Henry, Andrea Powell and some camper parents. Their goal is to start a Junior League for kids that will help them, as they grow into their teen years, to be able to participate at the high school level.

Organizer Betsy Gunnels said, "It was a fun week! All the instructors and volunteers are active tennis players at the Lake. At the end of camp, those kids who didn't have their own racquets got to take one home."

Please visit our website to learn more about what QCV is doing to promote physical activity, healthy eating and early childhood literacy for kids in our service area.

National Farmers Market Week celebrates community impact

VIRGINIA FARM BUREAU PRESS RELEASE

Farmers markets connect communities with fresh produce, locally made food and artisan goods, and they offer opportunities to mingle.

That's something to celebrate during this year's National Farmers Market Week, held Aug. 7-13.

"We are continuing to see shoppers using the markets to buy their fresh produce, their proteins, their fruits and vegetables, especially as we have ever-increasing prices at the grocery store," said Kim Hutchinson, Virginia Farmers Market Association's executive director. "Folks are wanting to support local, and we're excited to see them continuing."

Vendor presence is remaining steady too, Hutchinson said. While inflation and high gas prices have caused some regular vendors to cut back on the number of markets they attend, Hutchinson has seen an uptick in new farmers setting up booths. Many are people who began small homesteads during the COVID-19 pandemic and started selling their extra produce.

"We're seeing some new local producers—small and beginning farms that are incubating their business at the market, so that's been really exciting," she said.

Farmers markets remain a favorite weekend pastime for many families, said John Montgomery, who co-manages Dorey Park Farmers Market in Henrico County with his wife, Cappie. Short of picking it straight from the field, they give consumers farm-to-table access to local produce while directly supporting their community's farmers and economy.

"It's a destination," he said. "Our market has grown every year, but this year we've seen the largest attendance so far."

They also can provide an important connection to those who might not have much access to fresh fruits and vegetables, and allow dollars to stretch farther, he said. Dorey Park Farmers Market averages around 35 vendors and, like many Virginia farmers markets, participates in financial assistance programs like the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program and SNAP Match through VFMA's Virginia Fresh Match program.

"For every dollar a SNAP participant spends at the farmers market, the Virginia Fresh Match fund provides a matching dollar that can be spent on produce," he explained.

The Montgomerys also began a new program for the Dorey Park Farmers Market. Raising money from local businesses, the Little SNAPs program offers participants extra funds to purchase healthy food for their children.

"They'll receive an additional $10 per child, up to $20, to spend at the farmers market," he added. "It's a win-win."

To find a farmers market near you, visit vdacs.virginia.gov/vagrown or vafma.org/virginia-markets. For fun day-trip ideas to agritourism attractions connected to farmers markets, check out the Virginia is for Farmers Market Lovers Trail at lovevamarkeets.org.

Farmers, homeowners encouraged to safely dispose of pesticides

VIRGINIA FARM BUREAU PRESS RELEASE

Pesticides need to be disposed of carefully, and Virginia Farm Bureau Federation is encouraging its farmers and homeowners to participate in the 2022 Virginia Pesticide Collection Program.

The program collects unwanted, outdated or banned pesticides, at no cost to eligible participants, and disposes of them in a safe manner.

"This free program really benefits farmers and homeowners who have unwanted pesticides on their property and don't know how to safely get rid of them," noted Tony Banks, VFBF senior assistant director of agriculture, development and innovation. "This is a simple way to make sure these chemicals are disposed of properly."

The Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services Office of Pesticide Services, with participation from Virginia Cooperative Extension and the Division of Consolidated Laboratory Services, oversees the program. VDACS has collected and destroyed more than 1.5 million pounds of outdated and unwanted pesticides since its inception. The program is funded through pesticide product registration fees collected by OPS.

VDACS divides Virginia into five regions and each year conducts a collection in a different region. Once all five regions have been served, the program starts another cycle.

Participants must transport their unwanted pesticides to central collection sites within the service area. If participants cannot safely container the unwanted pesticides for transport, VDACS may arrange assistance on a case-by-case basis. Only pesticides will be accepted. Pesticide-contaminated material like pesticide-contaminated fertilizer will not be accepted as part of the collection program. In addition, the program does not accept motor oil, paint, fuel, fertilizer or other chemicals.

The following is a list of the 2022 collection sites and schedule. All locations are open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

- Aug. 9—Southern States, 5784 Valley Pike, Stephens City
- Aug. 10—CFC Farm & Home Center, 15172 Brandy Road, Culpeper
- Sept. 6—CFC Farm & Home Center, 12645 Lee Hwy., Sperryville
- Sept. 7—Rockingham County Fairgrounds, 4808 South Valley Pike, Harrisonburg

- Sept. 8—Ivy Materials Utilization Center, 4576 Dick Woods Road, Charlottesville
 - Oct. 11—Page Cooperative Farm Bureau, 127 Big Oak Road, Luray
 - Oct. 12—Madison County Fairgrounds, 1015 Fairground Road, Madison
 - Oct. 13—Rockbridge Farmers' Coop., 33 Yellow Rail Lane, Lexington
- Participants need to complete a pesticide collection registration form prior to the scheduled collection date and return the completed form to ops.enf@vdacs.virginia.gov or mail to Office of Pesticide Services, VDACS, P.O. Box 1163, Richmond Virginia 23218. The form is available at vdacs.virginia.gov/pdf/disposalregistration.pdf or by contacting the program at 804-371-6560.

Abandoned art building communities

BY PAGE H. GIFFORD
CORRESPONDENT

In small businesses around the county, you might see a piece of unframed artwork with a colorful tag that says "Hey you!...Yeah you. Pick me up you found FREE ART." The viewer has the option of keeping it, passing it on or leaving it for someone else.

"Art Abandonment is a group of artists who leave their creations in random locations across the U.S. and worldwide for others to find and enjoy," said participating artist Sharon Argo. Argo's work had been seen and taken at Cuppa Joe's.

Argo said one piece of her free artwork was taken, passed on, and ended up with its final owner in Oakton, Virginia.

"The owner told me 'I don't buy this kind of art! He has it on his dresser,'" she said. Argo's work is unique, with bright colors, pen and ink drawings, and patterns. A fellow artist took one of her creations because it represented all the facets of her interests throughout life.

The group was founded by artist Michael DeMeng. DeMeng's story centered on a sketch he did on a napkin and left on the table at an art workshop he was teaching in Eugene, Oregon. He left it for the next person to find, wondering what would become of it. The response to his picture was astonishing and his wife suggested he start a Facebook group to inspire others through art abandonment. Within a week of the group's launch, there were more than 800 members. Today, they have nearly 30,000 members worldwide.

The group boasts of artists and finders sharing stories and pictures of beautiful art creations from jewelry, to pottery, paintings, and more. One artist left a stunning ceramic bowl at the iconic Golden Gate Bridge as the backdrop. Jewelry was found in a town in England and many other places where unsuspecting collectors find one-of-a-kind pieces of art.

One artist recently started a new endeavor called Honoring a Legacy, for which she creates pieces in memory of someone. She randomly chooses people and creates something unique for them to honor the legacy of a lost loved one. A library sponsored a memorial using this idea to honor a young man who passed away. Many ideas have been generated from the original idea of abandoning art.

This new art movement not only combines random acts of kindness but highlights the work of local artists. For the past few years, art has been moving away from its high-brow elitist past and into a new cultural realm where everyone can enjoy art and in turn, gives the artist a creative purpose. It also builds art communities and connects people in ways they never imagined before.
