THIS WEEK'S PET: TROY - 10 Years old

♥ A part of our Lonely Hearts Club, Troy has been with us for more than a year now and his adoption fee is only $20!

Troy would need to be in a home with no live-stock around as he enjoys chickens too much, and he does appear too interested in kitty cats, so we would recommend a home with no felines.

Loves car rides and walking trails. He loves meeting new people and napping on fluffy beds. Troy is dog selective, so we would recommend a meeting with your current pup.

He is current on all vaccinations, preventatives, micro-chipped and neutered.

Fluco football team falls in opener to Broadway

Fluco Head Football Coach Michael Morris described the battle as "an old school physical football game." Unfortunately, for the Flucos the Gobblers were able to jump to a 21-9 lead in the first half. The Flucos looked good in the second half as each team managed one touchdown for a final score of 28-17.

The game started with a pooch kick-off by Broadway that the Flucos covered at their own 36-yard line. Fluvanna went three and out and punted. The Gobblers took over at their own 28; they promptly marched down the field and scored on an 18-yard run. The extra point was good and the Flucos trailed 7-0 with 7:02 left in the first quarter. The Flucos took the ball deep into Gobbler's territory gaining most of their yards on a nice run by senior Richard Price. The Gobbler defense stiffened and the Flucos turned the ball over on downs. The first two Gobbler running plays were stopped for losses, with Fluco junior defensive tackle Keeron King making one of the stops. A bad snap then sailed over the quarterback's head and the ball went out the back of the end zone for a safety. The Flucos trailed 7-2.

After a safety, the team that gave up the safety must kick to the team that recorded the safety. Broadway's kick went down the middle of the field, Fluco junior running back Isaac Lewis took the ball up the middle and burst through the oncoming Gobblers. He was immediately in the clear and no one came close to running him down. He scored the touchdown with no one anywhere near him. The Fluco's Cullen Long added the extra point and the Flucos led 9-7 with 1:18 left in the first quarter. As the quarter ended, the field and the stands were cleared due to lightning in the area. After a 45-minute delay, during which only a very light sprinkle occurred, the game was resumed.

After the game, Coach Morris noted that he felt that his squad might have come out of the delay "a little flat." Using mostly running plays the Gobblers ate up most of the time in the second quarter. On the Gobbler's first possession the Flucos bent but did not want to break. They forced the Gobblers into fourth down situations twice. On a fourth and four, the Gobblers gained five yards and then on a fourth and goal from the eleven, the Gobblers completed a rare pass over the middle for their second touchdown. They never trailed after that touchdown.

Broadway tried another pooch kick after their touchdown, and this time it worked. The Gobblers recovered the kick at the Flucos's 40-yard line. A 22-yard run and a late hit penalty put the Gobblers inside the ten yard line. The Flucos stopped two running plays for minus four yards and a fourth down, but again the Gobblers passed for a touchdown, with only 1:08 left in the half. The Flucos were now down 21-9, and Broadway's ball control offense made the prospects for a Fluco comeback somewhat bleak.

Broadway received the second half kick-off and went into ball control mode. The Flucos forced Broadway into a fourth and nine, so the Gobblers lined up in punt formation. Instead the punter ran a sweep for a first down. Three plays later, the Gobblers were in the end zone again for a 28-9 lead. The Flucos marched down the field but failed on a fourth down from the 16. Early in the fourth quarter the Flucos finally forced Broadway to punt. Erwin Cuellar made a big catch and run for the Flucos, and Lewis made a short spinning run for the Fluco's second touchdown. A two-point conversion was good for a score of 28-17, with only 5:31 remaining. The Flucos forced the Gobblers into punt formation. This time a fake punt run was unsuccessful. The Flucos had the ball back with 3:46 left on the clock, but they could not generate any more points.

Morris noted after the game that he thinks the play of sophomore quarterback Cam Via suggests that the team may be able to have a more diversified offense. He also liked the play of the defense, and lamented that several key penalties hurt. Linebacker Marcus Dickerson made some impressive hits. The Flucos host Spotsylvania on Sept. 2, a school with a less impressive football history than Broadway High, which went to the VHSL football playoffs last year.

Palmyra man arrested in connection with Lake fire

CONTRIBUTED BY JUDY FISH

The Fluvanna County Sheriff's Office has arrested a Palmyra man in connection with the Aug. 23 morning fire near Beach 5 at Lake Monticello.

According to a press release issued Aug. 24, Michael Joseph Taylor, 31, was arrested and charged with violation of a family abuse preliminary protection order while armed with a firearm, breaking and entering to commit arson, and maliciously burn an unoccupied dwelling house.

Firefighters responded to a Lake Monticello house fire Aug. 23 after a neighbor reported seeing smoke. Once on scene the volunteers made entry and extinguished multiple fires throughout the residence. Based on the fire command's observations, investigators and deputies from the Fluvanna County Sheriff's Office were summoned to open an investigation into a potential arson, according to the press release. No residents were home at the time of the fire.

"At approximately 8:37 a.m., the Lake Monticello Fire Department, Palmyra Fire Company and Fork Union Fire Company were dispatched to the 700 block of Jefferson Drive for a reported structure fire with visible smoke from the eaves of the structure and fire alarms sounding from inside the residence," Lake Monticello Fire Chief Richie Constantino said the day of the fire.

Constantino said firefighters used a garden hose as well as a fire hose to douse the flames. "Firefighters entered the residence by the front door and discovered heavy smoke banked down to the floor. Firefighters entered the home to conduct a primary search for any potential victims and to locate the fire."

"Firefighters held the fire in check with the garden hose, while an attack hose line from Lake Monticello Fire Department Engine 51, was stretched to the rear of the residence," the chief said, adding that the fire hose immediately extinguished the fire.

A secondary and more methodical search of the structure for potential victims was conducted, confirming that the home was empty, according to Constantino.

Palmyra man wins $500,000 in Virginia Lottery

PRESS RELEASE

All Sherod Hawkins wanted was some cigars. That's why the Palmyra man happened to be at the Fas Mart at 101 Crofton Place in Palmyra on a Friday evening (Aug. 26).

"I was in the store, and I looked up and saw that ticket," he told Virginia Lottery officials. "I said, 'Okay, let's go ahead and get it.'"

He took the Payday Bonus ticket to his car and scratched it. That's when he discovered he'd just won the game's $500,000 top prize.

"I thought, 'Wait a minute! This can't be right!'" he said.

To advertise call: 434.207.0223

Payday Bonus is one of dozens of scratchers available from the Virginia Lottery. It features prizes ranging from $20 to $500,000. This is the first top prize claimed in this game, which means two top prizes remain unclaimed.

The chances of winning the top prize are 1 in 1,672,800. The chances of winning any prize in this game are 1 in 6.97.

Mr. Hawkins, who works in information technology, said he intends to use his winnings to take care of his family and help his father retire.

Authorized by Virginia voters in a successful 1987 referendum, the Virginia Lottery generates more than $2.1 million per day for Virginia's K-12 public schools. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 2022, lottery customers helped generate more than $779 million in funding for public education. With all gaming, please remember to play responsibly.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks for article

What a treat to read Judy Fish's article on Matt Kolczynski. Matt has provided excellent services for us for over six years. We needed someone to assist with miscellaneous yard work. He continued to provide that type of assistance ever since.

He also helped us move to a smaller home here at Lake Monticello. He is cooperative, with good work ethic. I highly recommend your hiring him when your needs arise. Thank you, Judy Fish.

Zoning change for Wolfpack Properties

Wednesday August 17th the Board of Supervisors changed the zoning on some land near the Crofton Plaza. The plan is to allow developer Wolfpack Properties LLC to bring in commercial businesses. As this development is essentially in my own back yard (I live on Jefferson Dr. very close to Glen Burnie Rd) I felt compelled to comment.

My main concern is regarding a consistent vision for development. I am not against commercial development, in fact Fluvanna County desperately needs to increase our commercial tax base to supplement that of the residential, but we must do so responsibly. Many folks in the county are passionate about keeping our rural character, and one speaker during the public hearing mentioned the "Village Concept." The idea being that all developers are held to a standard of design that can be considered by the residents to be charming and harmonizes with our rural county.

Part of that harmony will depend on what businesses eventually land on these lots, and we did not get much confirmation on that from the developers or the board. While I understand the difficulty in guaranteeing a certain business take up residence, more emphasis on receiving a letter of intent, or stricter direction from the board could help keep us on a consistent path; a path forward to sustainable, harmonious, and charming development in our county. I hope our leadership walks that path for this development, and any others.

-James Schoenster, Palmyra

Tribute to Jay Chronister

With the recent death of 88-year-old Jay L. Chronister, Fluvanna County has lost one of its most distinguished but unsung leaders. Jay was born in Harrisburg, PA. He evinced a strong interest in public education at an early age. After receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in health education, he went on to receive a Masters of Education from Penn State and a Doctorate in Education from the University of Pittsburgh. Although I worked with him only occasionally, I was deeply impressed by his commitment to public education. We worked as part of the group planning the facilities for the new Fluvanna County High School, where many of his innovative ideas came to fruition.

He is remembered with great admiration and affection by several generations of students who attended his classes at the University of Virginia, where he was professor of education for 30 years. On a recent visit to the university, I happened to notice that it had dedicated a walkway and beautiful garden to Jay to honor his many years as an instructor.

Jay Chronister was a gentleman, a scholar and a man who dedicated his life to improving the nation's public education system, and I believe his legacy will be an enduring one.

New Lake Board member sees county and lake as “the good part in the middle”

Long-time Laker Debra Kurre, recently tagged to fulfill an unexpired term on the Lake Monticello Owners' Association (LMOA) Board of Directors, brings to her new role 30 years of experience as a Lake Monticello resident, business savvy—she owns her own business and is a CPA—and even first-hand LMOA Board experience.

Kurre first served on the LMOA Board of Directors in the early 1990s. During her current one-year term, Kurre wants to focus on community development.

“LMOA should have a voice in the development and politics of Fluvanna County,” Kurre said in a recent phone interview. She called the new LMOA Community Development Committee “instrumental.” Kurre served on that committee prior to her appointment to the LMOA Board.

“We have seen some movement,” she said from her car, as she and her husband travelled out of town. “We have spoken at planning meetings and believe the county is hearing us now. There is a window of time—and it is now—while Fluvanna County works on its comprehensive plan.”

Kurre said LMOA is working through what the Lake community's vision is for future development. She would like representatives of LMOA to meet with other homeowners' associations (HOAs) in the general vicinity of Lake Monticello.

“I personally would love to see us converse with representatives from other HOAs. We can learn from each other,” she said. “We are the largest community in the county by population and revenue center. We need to define our voice, own our voice and speak our voice.”

Lake Monticello and Fluvanna County are “the good part in the middle,” Kurre said. “We are halfway between Charlottesville and Richmond. That makes us easy to get to, but also easy to bypass. Lake Monticello is a great place to be, to live and to visit. We can not only get to Charlottesville and Richmond easily; we are not far from the DC area.”

She said she wants the county to bring more business, while maintaining its rural character. “We have a beautiful, small-town character and should be able to develop tourism and business,” Kurre said.

“On our travels, we have all visited those quaint or attractive towns,” she said. “Those towns are quaint and attractive because of very good planning. We are a diamond in the rough. Currently, there is no plan and that creates a hodge podge community. Without a vision, a community perishes.”

Debra and Jim Kurre met in Macon, Georgia, where both completed graduate degrees at Mercer University. Kurre completed her MBA in 1988 and is a licensed CPA in Georgia and Virginia. The couple, who have been married for 38 years, “moved briefly to Syracuse, NY before transferring to Fluvanna County for what we thought would be three or four years and became 30,” she said with a laugh.

When asked what she loves most about living at Lake Monticello, Kurre quickly answered, “the Lake.” She is known to swim most mornings at Beach 3. She said her husband enjoys golfing at the Lake Monticello Golf Course. “We enjoy the Pro Shop and dining at The Pub too,” she said. “Lake Monticello is a great place to live.”

Fluvanna sheriff's office posts two cold cases in new state database

PRESS RELEASE

Earlier this year, the Virginia State Police launched a website to display the newly developed cold case database in response to legislation introduced previously in the General Assembly. Cold cases include investigations into homicides and missing or unidentified persons cases that remain unsolved for at least five years. After working with the website administrators, the Fluvanna County Sheriff's Office has been able to upload and publish two cases from Fluvanna County that meet the definition.

The Sheriff's Office believes the recent publication of this information has the potential to generate leads and productive discussion from within our community. Investigators and the families related to these cases ask that anyone with information contact the sheriff's office directly or submit any information through the tip submission button on the respective case on the cold case database website located at the website below. <https://coldcase.vsp.virginia.gov/fluvanna-sheriffs-office/>.

Two Fluvanna cold cases

Robert Lee Hourihan was last seen on April 8, 2011, at the E.W. Thomas grocery store in Palmyra, Virginia. He was wearing blue work pants, a grey work shirt, and brown boots. Hourihan was originally believed to have left his residence to go to work in Richmond, Virginia, at approximately 7:40 on the morning of the 8th. He left driving a 2004 Chevrolet Cavalier displaying a Virginia vanity plate "TARAMAE." The vehicle also bore a Winnie the Pooh sticker in the rear window. It was later determined that he was instead set to meet an acquaintance in Palmyra. It has been reported that he never arrived at that meeting. On May 28, 2011, the vehicle was located, abandoned in the parking lot of a Target store in La Plata, Maryland.

Janet Renee Field was last seen on July 2, 2014, at her residence near Scottsville, Virginia, in Fluvanna County. Her car was found at the Park-and-Ride commuter parking lot in Zion Crossroads, near I-64 in Louisa County on July 4, 2014. Her purse, vehicle keys, and mobile phone were still in the vehicle. Her Virginia driver's license, cash, and credit cards were missing. She is known by her middle name, Renee. She has ties to Short Pump, Richmond, and Lexington, Virginia. She is known to frequent plant/gardening stores, health food stores, and holistic healing centers.

Liza Nash Taylor to speak at Fluvanna County Library

CONTRIBUTED BY MONA ORANGE

Liza Nash Taylor will be the first guest author to speak this Fall at the Fluvanna County Library on Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 10 a.m.

Nash has written two books of historical fiction that take place in Keswick, Va., New York City, Paris, and Boston, all during the Great Depression. Her first novel, Etiquette for Runaways introduces us to May Marshall, who makes some poor mistakes as she travels the world but returns to her home in Virginia to set things right.

Her second novel, In All Good Faith, continues the story and introduces us to Dorrit Sykes from a poor family in Boston who achieves unlikely success when she meets up with May. These books have been described as riveting page turners that celebrate strong women.

The public is invited to this free monthly meeting of the Friends of the Fluvanna County Library at 214 Commons Blvd. Books will be available to purchase and be signed. Please call the library with any questions at 434- 589-1400.

Carysbrook Performing Arts Center is finally opening its doors again to the public after almost three years of being shuttered and silent. Once again, the theater will be filled with music.

New to the venue will be visual arts and film. To kick off the 2022-23 season, the Center will open on Sept. 9, 5:30-8 p.m., with a film presented by the Virginia Folklife Program.

Based at Virginia Humanities, the Virginia Folklife Program is the state center for the documentation, presentation, support, and celebration of Virginia's cultural heritage. Folklife is the centerpiece of Virginia's rich cultural heritage, expressed in its stories, music, performance, and hand-crafted items. It is the arts, customs, and practices that emerge in a community from necessity and eventually become the traditions of a culture and its connection to the community. The goal of the Virginia Folklife Program is to preserve the community traditions that entertain, inspire, and define Virginians. The program receives funding and support from the Virginia Commission for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts Folk Arts Program.

Since 2002, Virginia Folklife's Apprenticeship Program has served over 150 teams, consisting of two-or-more mentor artists and their apprentices, as well as granting funding, supporting and encouraging the continuation of cultural traditions. The program has supported artists who are masters in traditions ranging from instrument repair in southwest Virginia to Mongolian mask-making in Northern Virginia to growing and grinding heirloom cornmeal on the Eastern Shore. Other than awarding teacher-student teams with financial support, it also provides a platform to share their work. Carysbrook will be one of those platforms.

"The Fluvanna Arts Council is committed to presenting the stories and culture of our community through music, art, film, and food. We are thrilled to partner with Virginia Humanities. The Virginia Folklife Program is such a strong leader in the celebration of Virginia's rich cultural heritage," said Sharon Harris, president of the Fluvanna County Arts Council. It has been her goal to bring diversity to the performing arts center as well as adding other forms of art, including film and visual arts, making it a comprehensive experience for the community.

In Good Keeping in 2022 introduces audiences to the most recent mentor artists and their apprentices. This screening will feature and honor participating mentor artist Horace Scruggs, who led an apprenticeship team that included his daughter, genealogist Hannah Scruggs, and historian Niya Bates. Together, this team worked to repossess their relationship to the James River, by navigating it in a bateau, the same way their ancestors, freed and enslaved once did.

Following the film, there will be a discussion with Scruggs and filmmaker Pat Jarrett, digital media specialist for Virginia Folklife Program, and Justin Reid, director of community initiatives for Virginia Humanities.

Before the screening, there will be a reception featuring refreshments and snacks by Luz Lopez, who participated in the apprenticeship program in 2019, training her daughter in making the traditional recipes of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The event is free and open to all but registration is required. Visit <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/in-good-keeping-in-2022-fork-union-screening-tickets-403562094087> to register.

This is a part-time position and requires weekend availability and ability to commute/relocate.

We are searching for a person with a heart for worshiping God through music and a passion for engaging congregations through vibrant worship and music. The candidate will be responsible for providing leadership of all church music activities, able to work in a team setting, demonstrating responsibility to assigned tasks, meeting schedules and being creative and energetic. A working knowledge of both traditional and contemporary Christian music is desired.

Future: When the choir is reestablished, prepare the choir for its role in worship.

Position provides compensation according to experience and training and will be discussed during interview.

If interested please call (434) 981-0901 or email kenny@bybeechurch.org

Our mission is to glorify God by being a loving Christian community that reaches out to all people through worship, spiritual growth, proclamation of the Good News of Jesus Christ, and ministry to needs in our world.

State Superintendent encourages families to submit applications for free meals

PRESS RELEASE

Superintendent of Public Instruction Jillian Balow is encouraging Virginia families to submit free meal applications to local schools.

Virginia is expanding eligibility for free meals during the 2022-2023 school year through funding provided by the General Assembly in the state budget. Students with families at or below 185% of the federal poverty level are eligible for free meals. Previously, students from families with an income at or below 130% of the poverty level were eligible for free meals.

Emergency federal flexibility that allowed free meals for all students during the pandemic expired at the end of the 2021-2022 school year. Moving forward, many Virginia schools will now require applications and use family income to determine eligibility for free, reduced-price or paid meals.

"School meals are important sources of nutrition for students and help reduce food insecurity in the commonwealth," Balow said. "I urge all families to apply to determine if they qualify. Filling out an application is simple and takes less than 15 minutes."

Students are automatically eligible for free meals if anyone in their household receives benefits such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations or Medicaid. Schools will notify families if a child is automatically eligible.

More than 525,000 students qualified for free meals in Virginia when data was last collected in 2019. The new eligibility means approximately 64,500 more kids can access free meals.

Many Virginia schools and divisions use a program called the Community Eligibility Provision to serve free meals to all students, in which case free meal applications are not collected. Families can contact their local school divisions to see if they are a part of the program.

"It's more important than ever for families to apply for free school meals. If no application is on file, students will need to pay for meals on the first day of school and may start to accrue meal debt, said VDOE School Nutrition Director Sandy Curwood. "And the good news is, if you qualify, free meals are seamless. Students will access their meals in the cafeteria with a pin number or a lunch card, with no overt identification. Please apply now," Curwood said.

Filling out a free form may help families qualify for additional benefits to include discounted exam fees and college applications, extracurricular and scholarship opportunities.

"School meals are critical to supporting academic success and well-being," said Director of No Kid Hungry Virginia Sarah Steely. "We are grateful to all school nutrition staff who work hard to fuel our students' minds and bodies," Steely said.

Families can reach out to their local school nutrition department with questions related to the free meal application form.

We are changing our name to Sacred Acres Alpaca Farm so we are better identified for the livestock we raise. Our new website, <https://www.sacredacresfarm.com>, sports our new name, and is much more interactive. You can schedule farm tours and alpaca walking online, shop online for alpaca products, sign up to sponsor one of our interesting alpacas, and contact us by email and phone. Our social media manager posts a new blog on the site every Monday and does a Facebook livestream on the farm every other Friday. Also, check out the information on field trips for schools and community groups.

animals, the luxury fiber they produce and why the alpaca business is perfect for environmentally conscious individuals. From 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., both days, Sacred Acres Alpaca Farm will welcome guests to join them for many activities including meeting the alpacas up close, seeing fiber demonstrations, and shopping for alpaca products. Bring your lunch or buy it from on-site food trucks. Enjoy one of our three picnic areas. Try out Art in the Barn. Get your face painted. Explore the wooded trails. Enjoy a fun-filled day for the entire family. Check our website for more details. We look forward to sharing our farm with you.

Villa Nova serves up more than pizza to hungry families

Andi Surface places bread in the oven. Photos by Judy Fish

"I love to feed people," said Andi Surface as she prepared homemade rolls for 50 for a Flucos Football dinner recently.

The busy mom was cooking up a storm to feed not only the football team, but other families taking advantage of the weekly "Family Meal Deal" offered each Thursday at Villa Nova's Pizzeria and Italian Bistro—a business she runs with her partner, David McRae.

"We really want to help the families that are low on time and possibly low on funds to enjoy a sit-down meal that they don't have to clean up after," said Surface as she drained a giant vat of pasta. Surface and

McRae have three children of their own and know how busy and stressed some families can feel, she said.

Wearing sneakers, an apron and a ponytail, Surface said some are surprised at the $7.50 starting price. That price is not per person. It's the total cost of the entire meal, which she said is "more than enough" for a family of four.

"The meal includes a pasta of your choice, tossed in butter, and two of our house-made bread rolls," Surface said. "This deal is completely flexible to you. If you have a sauce at home, sitting in your pantry, and just need cooked pasta?

We've got you! If you want pasta, chicken parmesan, and a garden salad with two-ounce dressings, we can do that!"

For the Flucos Football team dinner, Surface and her crew are making baked ziti and chicken alfredo. "We are also making salad, which is good," said Surface, showing her maternal side. "Everybody needs veggies." The dinner will also include homemade bread.

"We are grateful for the order," Surface said. She said it has been challenging to take over the restaurant during this "difficult time of staff shortages and supply issues." McRae and Surface bought the restaurant a year ago last month and are working hard to make it their own.

"People do not like change," Surface said. "We have made some changes to the interior of the restaurant and more are coming. We need to use the space as efficiently as possible."

She said menu changes were also necessary. "We have found that not all of the menu items that were offered when we took over are equally popular," she said. The couple now serves the mussels meal as a Sunday special to be able to still offer it to their customers.

Surface said menu changes are made to ensure the "best, freshest, most consistent meals" possible. She said pizza remains the most popular item the restaurant serves.

The Family Meal Deals are packaged up for pickup after 4 p.m. each Thursday, Surface said. Order the meals by 2 p.m. each Thursday at <https://www.toasttab.com/villa-novas-pizza> or call 434-589-3003.

Lake Monticello Fire & Rescue to host 21st annual 9-11 remembrance

The Lake Monticello Fire Department and Rescue Squad invites the public to attend the 21st anniversary "Remembrance and Tribute" ceremony on Sunday, Sept. 11, at 3 p.m.

"We honor those who perished in the terror attacks on our great nation, at the World Trade Center in New York City; the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.; and in the fields of Shanksville, Pennsylvania, that fateful and sorrowful day," Lake Monticello Fire Chief Richie Constantino said.

"We will also honor the members of Lake Monticello Fire and Rescue who were killed in the line of duty while serving the residents of Fluvanna County in 1989 and U.S. Navy Seaman Dakota Rigsby, of the Lake Monticello Fire Department, who was killed while serving our great nation on board the U.S.S. Fitzgerald, in the Sea of Japan," Constantino added.

The observance ceremony will be held at the Community 9/11 Memorial Garden, located at the Lake Monticello Firehouse located at 10 Slice Rd. in Palmyra. Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.
