Flucos overwhelm Goochland 58–7

BY DUNCAN NIXON
SPORTS CONTRIBUTOR

The Fluvanna High football team, under head coach Mitchell Pace, has become a juggernaut.

On Oct. 23, they traveled to Charlottesville and defeated the Black Knights 63-21.

On Oct. 30, they hosted the Goochland Bulldogs and won by an even more impressive 58-7.

One spectator commented, “That’s quite a team.”

The Flucos put up 21 points in the first quarter on Friday night, and the game was effectively over.

The team took the opening kickoff and started from its own 20. Big runs by junior fullback Dhani Cooke and senior halfback Garrett Jordan took the ball to the Goochland 13-yard line. Three plays later, Cooke blasted into the end zone, less than four minutes into the quarter. Place-kicker Dawson Raines converted the PAT, and it was 7-0.

The Flucos tried a pooch kick, and the Bulldogs mishandled it. The Flucos recovered and took over at the Goochland 38. Senior quarterback Jack Pace found junior tight end Jake McCall wide open over the middle for a second touchdown. The extra point made it 14-0 before the Bulldogs had run a play from scrimmage.

On their first possession, the Bulldogs made one first down and then fumbled it away. The Flucos started on their own 45-yard line. They took some time off the clock with a drive that included a 14-yard pass from Pace to senior wideout Brody Shields. Jordan carried it in from the 5 for the Flucos' third first-quarter touchdown. The PAT was good again, and the Flucos led 21-0 with less than a minute to go in the quarter.

Six touchdowns before halftime

On the Bulldogs' first play, they ran for what looked like their first score, but sophomore defensive back Terence Baskerville ran the Goochland running back down from behind. The Bulldogs then turned it over on downs.

McCall made a strong catch between defenders on a half-back pass. Pace threw a couple of quick passes to the outside to get the ball to the Goochland 7, and Jordan ran it in with 8:30 left in the half.

Goochland went three-and-out after the fourth Fluco touchdown and punted. The Flucos took over at their own 42. Pace promptly hit Shields with a long pass for the Flucos' fifth touchdown.

After another failed possession by the Bulldogs, the Flucos were set back to their own 17 by a punt that bounced all the way downfield. The Flucos scored their sixth touchdown on a long drive that included a 20-yard run by Jordan, a great one-handed catch by McCall and a long touchdown pass to junior receiver Crumbs Loving. The half ended with the Flucos leading 42-0.

On the Bulldogs' first possession of the second half, a 55-yard touchdown run put them on the board. However, Cooke and Jordan ran for additional touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters, respectively, and a safety made the final score 58-7.

Another dominant performance

The Flucos' statistics were impressive. Jordan again dominated, running for three touchdowns and 240 yards. Pace passed for 246 yards on a 10-for-11 performance. Ten completions on 11 passes is almost unheard of at the high school level.

Shields, McCall and Loving all had touchdown receptions, recording 97, 74 and 62 receiving yards, respectively. Cooke ran for 35 yards and a touchdown and passed for 32 yards. Raines made all eight PATs.

Coach Pace described it as "our most complete game yet." He noted a strong defense, with Dakota Drumheller leading in tackles and Drumheller and Robbie Richardson recording fumble recoveries. Julian Billings and Eli Stribling forced fumbles.

The Flucos have now scored 17 touchdowns in their past two games against Jefferson District opponents and are 8-1. Their final regular-season game is Nov. 6 at Albemarle High. The playoff picture has not been finalized, but Fluvanna Athletic Director Scott Morris said he expects the Flucos to start at home Nov. 13.

Star Gazing in Fluvanna

Fun events to view in November

The meteors are coming again this month! But this time, the meteor showers will be the Northern Taurids and the Leonids. Additionally, this month we can also witness many of the exciting events with which we are well familiar, including planetary and lunar conjunctions (remote objects visually appear close to one another); the moon moving through its many phases; and the auspicious opportunity to see Mercury since it will be positioned far away from the Sun, and therefore highly visible due to this separation. Hopefully some of these events capture your interest and motivate you to spend time observing the night and early morning dark sky this month.

Let's get ready to engage in observing these events by setting up your stargazing equipment, charging your cell phones, linking to Sky Guide, Sky View Lite, or any other stargazing applications that you find useful, and settling into your favorite viewing spot to witness the magic of the night and early morning skies!

Weeks 1 (November 1-7)

On November 1, the Moon moves into its last quarter phase, when the left side of the Moon will be illuminated. You can observe the Moon in the constellation Cancer.

On November 2-November 3, the moon will be in conjunction with the planet Jupiter and the blue-white star Regulus in the constellation Leo.

On November 4, the planet Mercury will be in conjunction with the Sun in the constellation Libra.

On November 7, the moon will be in conjunction with the planet Venus and the bright star Spica in the constellation Virgo.

On November 9, the moon will enter its new moon phase, when it will no longer be visible except as a ghostly sphere in the sky; this month, the new moon will be positioned in the constellation Virgo. This moon phase gives us a better view of the night sky since there will be no moonlight to obstruct views of stars and planets.

On November 11, the moon will be in conjunction with the bright red star Antares in the constellation Scorpius.

Also on this evening, the Minor (Class II) meteor shower Northern Taurids will radiate from within the constellation Taurus. This shower typically produces around 5 meteors per hour and will peak on November 12. The best time to observe this shower is after midnight through the morning hours on November 12.

Week 2 (November 8-14)

On November 13, the moon will be in apogee in its orbit around Earth. At this time, the moon will be farthest from Earth. One of the most noticeable impacts is lower high tides and higher low tides; in other words, the moon has less pull on the Earth than at other times during

On November 14, four planets will be in conjunction: Mercury, Venus, Mars, and Jupiter. Look to the southeastern sky where Venus and Mercury will be close to the horizon, and Mars and Jupiter will appear higher in the sky almost directly above Venus and Mercury.

Weeks 3-5 (November 15-30)

On November 16, the planets you observed 2 days ago – Mars and Jupiter- will be located in the constellation Leo. These bright planets will be observable with the naked eye.

On November 17, the Moon moves into its first quarter phase. This phase is marked by the right side of the moon being illuminated.

Also on November 17, the Leonids meteor shower will be at its peak. The meteors from this shower radiate (e.g., originate) from the Leo constellation; as a Major (Class I) meteor shower, up to 15 meteors could appear each hour from late evening on November 17 to the early morning hours on November 18. The meteors radiate in all directions, with the best place to look slightly beyond the Leo constellation. The best time to observe this shower on the east coast is from midnight until dawn.

With a telescope or sky binoculars, you can view the moon in conjunction with the planets Neptune and Saturn in the constellation Pisces on November 20.

On November 24, the moon will reach full and be a Supermoon this month. A supermoon occurs when the moon is at its closest point to Earth (perigee) in its orbit, and it appears larger than most moons because of its proximity to Earth. The moon will appear within the constellation Taurus and in conjunction with the Pleiades (aka Seven Sisters, and M45) star cluster. This full moon is commonly known as the Beaver Moon because beavers complete their winter preparations and stay in their lodge throughout the winter. This moon is also called the Deer Rutting Moon (Dakota and Lakota people), the Digging Moon (Tlingit people), the Freezing Moon (Anishinaabe people), the Frost Moon Cree and Assiniboine peoples), and the Whitefish Moon (Algonquin people).

To advertise email: sales@fluvannareview.com

On November 25, the Moon will be in perigee, a point in its orbit when it is closest to Earth. This results in higher high tides and lower low tides. It can also make the moon appear larger and produce what is known as a Supermoon.

On November 25-26, the planet Mars will be in conjunction with the blue-white star Regulus in the constellation Leo. Also on this date, the planet Uranus can be see in the night sky within the constellation Taurus. You'll need a telescope or strong binoculars to see this small, distant planet.

On November 28, the moon will be in conjunction with the yellow-orange star Pollux in the constellation Gemini.

On November 29, the moon will be in conjunction with the Beehive Cluster in the constellation Cancer.

On November 30, the last quarter of the moon will be in conjunction with the planet Mars, Jupiter, and the blue-white star Regulus in the constellation Leo.

In Summary...

So end the highlights of this month. If you are interested in rocket launches, NASA offers the public the opportunity to view them. For additional information about NASA-managed launches, visit https://www.kennedyspacecenter.com/subscriptions/sign-up For updates on European Space Agency flight plans, visit https://europeanspaceflight.com/european-rocket-launches-in-2026/_. And remember to keep track of the International Space Station (ISS) movements through the downloadable ISS phone app; look for the aurora borealis flare-ups, which are noted on the website with the same name; and track other space related websites noted below that provide information about special space events that might be of interest to you.

With the perpetual motion of planets and stars, the daily changing sky promises to entertain you for a lifetime! Until next month, keep your eyes facing the morning and evening sky to see the wonders of our universe as we Earthlings travel through it!

COACH'S CORNER
with Coach Mitchell Pace

Fluco Football Fans,

It was a big week for our Fluvanna County football team as we closed the month of October. JV and varsity both had good wins over the Bulldogs of Goochland. JV won 24-8, and Friday night's varsity score was 58-7.

While there are lots of stats a football coach like me could rattle off, here are the highlights from the varsity game: Garrett Jordan rushed for 240 yards and three touchdowns. Jack Pace passed for 245 yards and three touchdowns — one to Brody Shields, one to Crumbs Loving and one to Jake McCall.

The defense was led in tackles by Dakota Drumheller and Keen Dickerson. We had five tackles for loss, two forced fumbles (recovered by Robbie Richardson and Drumheller) and a safety by sophomore Isaac Johnson.

And I have big news to announce, hopefully firing up Fluvanna County like never before: This special group of young men has reached out and touched a little bit of local history.

We will host a playoff game on Friday, Nov. 13! Fluvanna football has not hosted a playoff game in 45 years, since 1981. We are hoping for a record crowd and the loudest and proudest stadium in the state! Do not miss that game!

But before that, we've got to keep our sights set on the next target. We play at Albemarle High School this Friday night at 7 p.m. against a very talented Patriots squad that we cannot overlook. Join us to help continue a winning streak into the playoffs. Buy tickets on GoFan.co.

Thanks for your amazing support,

Coach Pace

LMOA budget proposal: 3% dues increase, growth in reserves

CONTRIBUTED BY MIKE FEAZEL

LMOA dues and most fees would go up 3% next year, slightly less than the 3.4% rate of inflation, under the staff budget proposal presented to the board in a work session Tuesday. The final vote on the 2027 budget is expected at the November board meeting.

Homeowner dues would increase to $1,239.13 from $1,203.04 under the proposal. Of that, $382.48 would go to LMOA reserves for future road, facility repair, lake, and other expenses. LMOA is projected to have $9.9 million in reserves at the end of that year.

The proposed budget calls for LMOA to end the 2027 year with a surplus of less than $100.

The proposed budget includes a 5% increase in employee salaries and health care costs and a 4% increase in trash pickup costs. It also increases the food and beverage subsidy to $145,000 per year from the current $115,000 and raises payments to Allied Security by 4%.

Under the proposal, dues revenue would total $5.7 million in 2027, and total revenue would be $10.6 million.

The budget has some flexibility, including that employee costs are budgeted as if LMOA were fully staffed the entire year, which seldom happens, lowering actual employee spending. There's often other spending that's included in the budget that doesn't actually happen.

Not included in the budget is a list of several projects that the staff anticipates doing in 2027, but for which planning isn't complete and for which board approval would be needed. They include an estimated $400,000 for a more proactive approach to road maintenance, $300,000 to replace finger piers at the marina, $130,000 to repair or replace the fishing pier at Tufton Pond, and $60,700 for a beta test of TryMarine's method of improving lake water health on 10 acres in Jackson Cove.

The High Costs of Cheap Insurance Policies

Be aware of ads promising the cheapest insurance quotes. Cutting corners on coverage might seem like a smart move financially, but it can lead to issues when you need to make a claim.

At The Mackin Agency, we speak one-on-one with our clients to help them navigate insurance questions and claims. We see it all—especially the repercussions of settling for cheap insurance. As consumers, we buy insurance and hope for the best, but when we actually have to use it, what does choosing cheap insurance truly cost us?

Here are 3 outcomes of cheap insurance:
1. You risk too little coverage when you need it most.
2. You are more likely to have a poor claim(s) experience.
3. You may miss important coverages altogether.

Just a few dollars more per month may save you $100s if not $1000s after a claim. Call us today and get your questions answered in real time by insurance professionals.

At Goosehead Insurance - The Mackin Agency, we get insurance. Call 434-589-1447.

Art group connects art to nature

BY PAGE H. GIFFORD
ARTS & CULTURE CONTRIBUTOR

At the Oct. 27 meeting of the Fluvanna Art Association, members brought nature into art through the simple, hands-on process of leaf printing, capturing the beauty of leaves as seen through an artist's eyes.

Nature has always inspired artists, from landscape painters to botanical illustrators. Leaf printing offers a more direct connection: The natural object itself becomes part of the artwork.

Artist and FAA Vice President Alyce Walcavich led the group, showing members techniques for printing with acrylic paint or silkscreen ink. Members brought a variety of leaves to share, including maple, oak, and other familiar shapes.

Walcavich suggested painting the underside, where the veins are most prominent, using enough paint to coat it evenly. Studying a leaf, you begin to see more than its shape or color: delicate veins, intricate patterns and textures that often go unnoticed. Those familiar gifts of nature inspired a morning of artistic exploration. Many discovered that leaves with distinctive edges and deep veins worked best for the prints.

Participants worked together around the table, selecting leaves, sponging on paint or ink, and pressing them with their hands or a brayer before revealing their work. Artist Lyn Ficke got excited about overlapping her purple leaves with a yellow fern and other orange and blue leaves. Bev Bowman printed one opaque leaf surrounded by ghost prints of leaves and stems.

Everyone had fun learning, sharing, making mistakes, and enjoying small successes. Even for an artist like me, the process was challenging enough to loosen up the perfectionist in us.

Perhaps the greatest discovery of the morning was that inspiration doesn't always require looking far or traveling somewhere else. Sometimes it is right outside the door, in our backyards, just waiting to be picked up and seen in a new way. Finding creativity in an ordinary leaf brings the outdoors to the art table.
